Read all your other books first so your patience won't burst!

Then please wait with us, friends, for this book is tree-mendous!

We know you can't wait for artwork this cute, so for now we suggest that you just eat some fruit!

We really do promise there is a book on the way,

It only seems like it takes forever and a day,

For we have to wait too, so what more can we say?

We can't wait for the day when you'll read our whole silly story.

About the tale of the brave girl who learns so much about surgery.

But don't fret or fuss – eat a prune if you must, for we promise it is not one tiny bit gory.

Even the surgeons and doctors must wait for our book,

It doesn't matter how long they say their schooling all took,

We won't even let them have just one tiny look!
